Irish Question it is Hoped Reaches Settlement

After years of anxiety and bloodshed the Irish question seems to have reached a settlement that is acceptable to both Ireland and England.

The settlement has been reached by the signing of a "Treaty between Great Britain and Ireland" consisting of eighteen articles, giving Ireland the title of "The Irish Free State" and the same status as Canada and the Overseas dominions. The question of allegiance has been settled by permitting the members of the Irish parliament to swear allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State and faithfulness to His Majesty the King.

The treaty has yet to be submitted to the imperial parliament and the Ulster government. A special meeting of the imperial parliament will be opened on December 14th to discuss the treaty. The King, who has taken a close personal interest in the Irish question, and in fact investigated the negotiations, will open parliament in person.

Premier Lloyd-George, the great Welshman, is receiving universal congratulations for his masterly handling of the negotiations which seemed to have reached a deadlock. The representatives of the Dail Eireann are prepared to recommend to the newly constituted Irish Free State that they shall not merely make a treaty of association with the British Empire but shall enter into the British Empire for all purposes, the fidelity of the Irish Free State will be declared in plain language in the Constitution as created by this document, to the common wealth of nations and to King George.

Scenes of great enthusiasm were created in London when it became known that this big question was practically settled.

A Time For Courage

There is no disguising the fact that conditions throughout the Western Provinces of Canada are not, at the present time, very encouraging and many people are faced with a difficult winter and some hardship. In this respect the Canadian Prairie Provinces are not so very different from other parts of the Dominion and other countries throughout the world. There is, however, no real reason why the people of the West should lose heart and indulge in blue ruin pessimistic talk. Such an attitude will not help, but will rather operate to further hinder a return to better times and conditions.

Present conditions in the West are bound to be of a temporary character and no country in the world is capable of more rapid recovery than the Canadian Prairie West. One misfortune and unfeared occurrence after another played havoc with agricultural production and affected this year, while it may be hard for many families to manage through this winter, the situation cannot be too worse, and in the vast majority of cases very much better, than the early pioneers of this country and of Ontario and the Western States had to bear. Yet these earlier pioneers held on, revealing a determination and courage which in due course brought its reward, and thousands of them are today enjoying wealth or a secure and comfortable livelihood. Yet they experienced harder and apparently more hopeless conditions than those with which the people of today are confronted.

The next few months call for the exercise of certain qualities by all people. First and foremost, there must be individual courage, determination and energy; the putting forth of every possible effort to meet and overcome adverse conditions; an insistent turning away from the dark side of the picture and a constant hunt for the silver lining and contemplation of all the brighter and more hopeful features of the situation. Secondly, there is need for the development of a spirit of helpfulness. In this way, to the extent of personal sacrifice, in order that the more fortunately placed ones will rally to the assistance of the less fortunate. In a word, these more difficult times should develop a strong community spirit of helpfulness and cooperation.

While nobody ever welcomed adversity, it must be remembered that it is in that hard school that really strong men and women are made. While trying in mind and body, without any great difficulty or obstacle to the way, the individual becomes soft, loses initiative, becomes weak and lacking in character. It is the struggle to overcome, to achieve, to win, that makes real men and creates strong characters. The man who overcame by adversity, lies down, is a failure and would ultimately prove a failure even under normal and less trying conditions. But "the man worth while is the man who can smile when everything goes dead wrong." And he is the man who will triumph in the end, and in the more successful and brighter days to come will look back with grim satisfaction and a deep joy to the dark days in which he struggled and achieved, and won not only worldly success, but strength of character to meet whatever life might bring to him.

Lord Byng Honored By University at Toronto

The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Lord Byng, governor-general of Canada, by the University of Toronto. Following the ceremony, Lord Byng expressed appreciation of the honor and said that in the universities of Canada more than in any other place, were to be found all that was best and most inspiring in the rising generation.

Civilization and modern social needs, Lord Byng said, had advanced past the time when faith and a strong arm were all that was required of a man. He emphasized the importance of science and declared he believed the present horrors of war were due quite as much from the disappearance of the brave worker in control as from any other cause.

These incidents have a peculiar interest at the moment because they may be the last of the sort to occur for many years to come. It is even possible that these are the last of the great trios of battleships.—New York Globe.

Money Not Saved

Figures Show That Americans Do Not Hoard Money

A Washington statistician reports that as against $418,000,000 the country spent for the army $750,000,000 has gone on candy and chewing gum. Sweethearts, the report continues, with military expenditures, does not?

And $834,000,000 for sodas and other soft drinks and $350,000,000 for perfume, jewelry, silk stockings and kind luxuries. And the pin money pleasantly expended on theatres, concerts and baseball was $827,000,000. And, above all, the tribute to My Lady Nieotine cost her devotees $1,151,000,000!

Doubtless these figures tend to prove something, one knows not what. They certainly show that Americans are not excessive hoarders and ought to bring a little more sense of proportion to indignant taxpayers. It is not fair to assume that people are unduly self-indulgent. Yet it does make one dizzy to think of a billion gone up in smoke—not the smoke of the battlefield, however.—New York Tribune.

Toe Walking Develops Strength
Walking on the heel is the attitude of civilized man alone. The people of the world, who are much superior in their muscular development, all walk on the toes, except the lower animals. Taking this suggestion, a French doctor is prescribing a course of toe walking for patients who are deficient in chest development.

THE CAUSE OF BACKACHE

Only in Rare Cases Does Backache Mean Kidney Disease

Excessive walking in the body needs constantly a supply of rich red blood in proportion to the work it does. The muscles of the back are under a strain, and the blood vessels are taxed. When the blood is thin they lack nourishment, and the result is a sensation of pain in those muscles. Some people can stand on their heels, even when tired, trouble, but the best medical authorities agree that backache seldom or never has anything to do with the kidneys. Organic kidney disease may have its seat in the critical point without developing a pain in the back. This being the case, pain in the back should always be attributed to trouble in the seat of the trouble, not in the kidneys.

Miller's Worm Powders, being in most cases that the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will build up the blood, will cure sensations of pain in the un-nourished muscles of the back.

How much trouble is it to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the blood that is giving you an uncomfortable feeling about your kidneys? I suspect your kidneys, any doctor can make tests in ten minutes that will tell your fears at rest, or tell you if you are healthy or not.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail in Canada a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brantford, Ont.

Britain's Safest Policy Is Making Investments Within The Empire

London.—Winston Spencer Churchill, colonial secretary, in a speech in London, said that if Great Britain was able only to look to the east and the west her position would be unhappy, but in the great dominions she had opportunities for security with objects deserving immediate attention and with great potentialities for development.

Before British investors can money upon strange shores let them, he said, be quite sure there was not in the British Empire a more certain means of securing swift and certain returns. In future they would need to draw more from imperial resources and as the years passed this process would conduce to the greater strengthening of the British position. They were well advised to repose themselves confidently on the board security of the Empire. If that failed there would be little use in any part of the world. If it stood, the money invested in the great overseas dominions would return bringing with it means for future enterprise. If they had patience, courage and wisdom, one day they would prove that they would live to see the dawn of another era as splendid, peaceful and prosperous as that in which their fathers and grandfathers were fortunate enough to live.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil effects caused by the tobacco.

Mr. Frank L. Milburn, of Terrace Hill St., Brampton, Ont., writes:—"I had been troubled with palpitation of the heart for a number of years, and by some means I had got into the habit of smoking. My doctor told me it would stop on me sometime if I did not cut out tobacco. When I would get a spell my heart would race, and I would have to lie down in a perspiration, and get so weak I would have to sit right down and quit my work; also in the night I would wake up with my heart racing. I used to smoke about 2000 cigarettes a minute. About three years ago I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, took them, and gradually they did the job. I am taking fine and have gained over 20 pounds in weight."

Russian Rouble

Drops in Value

Dollar Has Taken Jump From 150,000 to 200,000

Moreover.—The Russian rouble is still depreciating. It now requires 200,000 of them to purchase a dollar. In one day the dollar has jumped from 150,000 roubles to 200,000 roubles, which is the most violent fluctuation since the free trade policy was inaugurated. It is attributed to the scramble of possessors of large quantities of roubles to obtain foreign money at any price, accelerated by a recent decree for the issuance of a new paper money on December 1. Under the new form of printing the present high numbers will be eliminated, the notes returning to the one trouble unit which is worth 10,000 of the present notes.

By the new plan Russia's millions of millions will be painlessly reduced to a lower financial class.

And they keep a bottle of "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "Amen" to or you may get an invitation for the syrup.

High School Students Killed

Dense Fog Prevented Bus Driver From Seeing Train

Red Bluff, Calif.—Ten high school students were killed south of here at the Prospect Crossing when the Southern Pacific train No. 15, southbound, struck the high school and mangled the bus in which they were riding. Four children and the driver were injured.

The bus, en route with children to school, had suffered an accident and was behind schedule. Two drivers were sent from the school to bring it in. Another bus crossed ahead of the train, but this one, following closely behind in a dense fog, was struck squarely and hurled into a block of ice. Enclosed in the car, the children were unable to escape and their bodies were hurled in all directions.

Portuguese Threatened By Bolshevism

Spreading Through Large Towns and Conditions Are Serious

London.—The powers are considering intervention in Portugal and the assumption of a mandate there to quell the "ugly wave of Bolshevikism" which is sweeping that country, the Times declares. France, Italy and Spain, it says, favor such a move. Former upheavals in Portugal arose from the rivalry of political parties, but Bolshevikism is now spreading through the large towns, the Times declares, and there have been many outrages, especially in the Province of Alentejo.

The recent bombing of the United States consulate in Lisbon was an incident in this movement, it is said, and most of the foreign diplomatic there have received letters threatening their lives.

When a number of foreign sailors moored in the Tagus River at Lisbon recently, the sailors on a Portuguese gunboat are said to have been restrained only with difficulty from attempting to torpedo the Spanish vessel.

Despatches to the Times assert that the condition of the country is such that it has been very difficult to find men willing to accept posts in the cabinet.

Stammer Makes Official Trip Victoria.—The new C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, built by the Wallace Shipyards, North Vancouver, has begun her official trial trip.

The speed requirements of 16 knots called for by the contract stipulations were more than satisfied at all trials. In three trials the vessel averaged 16.2, 16.9 and 17 knots.

C. Mitchell, of Duninda, a well-known Saskatchewan grain grower, for two years.

Wen Donald, a Chyndale stallion of over seven years of age, exhibited by C. A. Weaver, of Regina, won the stallion championship and First Principal, entered by the Manitoba Agricultural Experiment Station, was the reserve champion. The two Canadian horses were in perfect condition for the fight in the arena, and had little trouble in beating the other senior stallions for the honors. Several firsts and many other prizes were conferred upon Canadian horses in the various classes during the day.

Canada's only comfort in the loss of the wheat growing championship to George Kraft, of Bozeman, Mont., is that Mr. Kraft's wheat was grown from samples secured from Dr. Senator Wheeler of Saskatchewan, the Canadian wheat wizard, and Dr. Wheeler is certain to share in the honor of producing such a marvellous brand of improved Marquis. Mr. Mitchell's wheat weighed 64.7 pounds to the bushel, while Kraft's wheat was 61.6 pounds, and Mitchell's was darker in color and the kernels smaller. Mr. Mitchell was the champion in 1910 and 1922, and was given the secondary honor this year.

Teacher Fined For Flogging Scholar

Boy Was Excessively Punished For Telling Truth

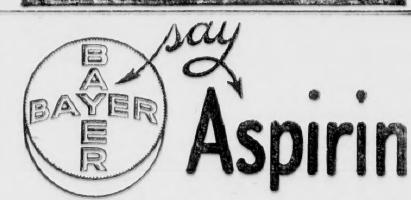

Hamilton, Ont.—Because Miss F. Cutthbert, a school teacher, strapped Sidney Pauling, a pupil in her class, she was fined $10 and costs in police court. The magistrate said that the punishment administered was "a barbarous way of assaulting a boy and never should be used."

"One or two slaps would have been sufficient," declared the magistrate. "And I find that the boy has been excessively punished."

The boy testified that the teacher struck him 15 times for telling an untruth.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 7th,

No Municipal Election Necessary

On Monday a meeting was held for the nomination of officers for the School Board and the Town Council. There were two vacancies to be filled on the Board and four on the Council.

For the School Board, Dr. Clarke, Mr. Norman Clarke and Mr. M. Clemens were nominated. Mr. Clemens however withdrew his nomination thus leaving only the two men to fill the positions, so that no election was necessary.

Barn Catches Fire

On Monday night at about a quarter after eleven the locality citizens of Didsbury were called to action by the sound of the fire alarm. As usual a prompt response was made and the fire department was hurried to the scene where which happened to be a barn at the back of Mr. G. H. Hardy's residence.

When first noticed by Mr. Crossland, who gave the alarm, the barn was well ablaze and was burning in the loft which had a quantity of hay in it. By the time the engines arrived flames were shooting up through the walls and roof and it was burning furiously. Mr. Durrer's garage was right beside it and it was thought this also would catch fire so the horses and other articles there were all moved out into the open.

Willing hands soon had the engines operating and besides the two streams playing on the barn a water line was formed and two wells pumped dry by which time the hook and ladder rig and the water tank had arrived. After a hard struggle the flames were got under control much to the surprise of most as the barn had had such a start, and was finally put out altogether. Mr. Geo. Julian at the top of a ladder on the burning roof played a very important part in this and was well backed up by those below him. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it was very lucky that it was caught when as there were several residences near by which stood in danger of being burned had it gone much further.

May 1st '26, provided, however, that it is in the opinion of the trustees or committee that the proposed trip to Mexico will be of great interest to the public, as now see quite an overestimate that club will incur, they may declare that club will not incur.

(3) The games will be double rink events and will consist of six sets each. In case of a tie an extra end will be played until a majority of points is scored by either side.

(4) One of the two rinks representing any club will be known as "junior rink" and must have three green curlers on it. A green curler will be recognized as one who has not curled previous to the beginning of the season. An experienced curler may skip this rule. Provided, however, that if three green curlers are not available, players may be substituted who have curled for one season. In this case for every such player, the rink using him will concede two points to their opponents. In no case may two players play on the "junior rink" who have curled prior to one season before the current one. "Junior rinks" will always be drawn one against another.

(5) Challenges shall be sent in to the trustees who will appoint a secretary to do the correspondence. It will be left to the discretion of the trustees to decide whether or not challenges must be accepted, but it will be generally understood that when ice permits and a local bonspiel is not in progress, defenders will be expected to defend the cup at least twice a week.

(6) Defending clubs will be responsible to the trustees for the safe-keeping of the cup and the handing of it over to the rinks which may prove the winners in any authorized game.

The donor proposes that the first defender will be decided by a double rink playoff to be held in Red Deer as soon as may be in the present season.

Canada's New Coat of Arms

Every home in Canada, every Canadian school boy and girl should know the new Canadian Coat of Arms. It is most beautiful plate and should occupy a prominent place in all true Canadian homes. The people of Canada are indebted to the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal for reproducing the new Coat of Arms in all its true heraldic colors and presenting a copy 11x17 inches, to all readers of that great paper.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star is Canada's greatest family and farm paper and is known throughout the whole Dominion. It is wonderful value and provides every member of the family with clean wholesome, instructive reading. It is a great money saver for the farmer. Canada and repays the subscription price one hundred fold each year. Canada is proud of the big weekly. It has no superior the world over and is improving year after year. It costs only two dollars a year and each reader for 1922 will receive free a copy of the "Coat of Arms."

Trade Prospects With Mexico

Canada's influence in Mexico has for years taken the form of branch banks and the financing and management of many industrial and public utility plants.

Major Chisholm, former Canadian Trade Commissioner, stated recently that Mexico is now heading quickly back to her former state of prosperity and presents an exceedingly attractive market for Canadian products.

Mexico should be added to the list of foreign markets made available through the operation of the Canadian Merchant Marine. As a matter of fact, the Canadian National Railways Management has sent a special representative to make an investigation of traffic conditions there in respect to services on both the east and west coast. Canadians are well regarded in Mexico, and it only needs the practise of salesmanship and proper shipping facilities to establish very extensive and profitable trade in natural and manufactured products of the two countries.

What Canada Needs Most

There are too many people in the British Isles. There are vast empty spaces in Canada which, given human occupation and human endeavor, will blossom like the rose. Canada's problem is to establish a connection between the people who have no land and the land that has no people. The action of Hon. F. D. Pattullo in going to England in an effort to obtain settlers for 2,000,000 acres on the British Columbia lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific is the kind of action which will have the most rapid and far-reaching effect on the future of Canada generally, and the prosperity of our nationally owned railroads.

In Great Britain the Canadian National Railways have recently made a wide distribution of a book, let specially prepared for women, pointing out the advantages for the proper kind of women to make their homes in Canada.

With the adoption of steel passenger coaches, came greater safety and riding comfort—but also increased operating expenses. Steel cars are not only more costly to construct but also cost more to haul because of the fact that they increase immensely the weight of the train. The Canadian National Railways operate a greater proportion of steel coaches than any other Canadian Railway. The steel car is so heavy that it is generally confined to main line use on transcontinental runs.

Canada, whether certain individuals approve or not, is the owner of 22,000 miles of railways together with all the rolling stock and equipment necessary to operate the same. This gigantic plant can be rapidly and permanently changed from a loss to a paying venture, if and when the Canadian people decide that they will give their own railroad a fair and equitable share of the existing passenger and freight traffic of the country.

Eastern people, as a rule, do not know what "hauling to market" means. Many western farmers, located miles from a railway, start out at dawn to draw a load of grain to an elevator. Arriving in town after dark, they have to board themselves and their team for the night at some expense. Next morning they deliver their grain to the elevator, do some necessary shopping and arrive home after dark again—having been on the road some 36 hours. The construction of the Canadian National Railways was a tremendous boon to thousands of such farmers, by bringing shipping facilities much closer to their farms—literally cutting down the time necessary to deliver a load of grain from days to hours.

It is one thing for a man whose business or private requirements are served by a network of railroads to discuss casually the importance of the Canadian National Railways—but to the farmer or dweller in the small towns, the development and success of Canada's railways is a matter of transcending importance.

Gold Production and Business

A word of explanation is necessary in connection with his article from the World's Work as to why the Canadian five dollar bill will still buy as much as the five dollar gold piece in Canada, while if we wish to use it in the United States it is subject to a considerable discount. This is owing to the fact that while the Canadian Government have not abandoned the gold standard, it is to say, they have not so many words declared their inability to pay gold for any notes which may be presented, they have prohibited the exportation of gold. To the Canadian, therefore, gold is worth no more than paper seeing that he is forbidden to export it, which is the only means by which he can buy more with it than with paper money.

Mr. Parsons deals chiefly with the reduced production of gold in the United States but that portion of his article which shows the relation between that production and industry will prove of general interest. He says in part:

"A five-dollar bill costs less than a penny to manufacture, but it will purchase as much sugar or meat as a five-dollar gold piece. Out West I always get angry when I buy a two-dollar notebook, give the clerk a ten-dollar bill and get eight silver dollars in change. The heavy money is not only unhandy, but it takes the crease out of my trousers carrying it around. In New York I don't want any one to give me a twenty-dollar gold piece if they can give me a bill of the same denomination instead. In other words, I want instead of hard cash, because the paper money is light, convenient to carry, and buys just as much."

"But why am I willing to place such faith in paper money? The reason is that the bills carry the promise of the United States Government to hand me their face value in gold on demand. As long as I know I can go to the mint and get twenty dollars' worth of gold for a twenty-dollar bill, I don't want the metal. However, if I thought I couldn't get the precious yellow metal for the bill on demand, I wouldn't be willing to sell twenty dollars' worth of my labor or goods for a twenty-dollar bill. It's the material value back of the paper that determines its worth. The paper currency of a nation fluctuates in value largely in proportion to the nation's ability to redeem its bills in gold."

Not one person in ten comprehends the value of gold to civilization. If another nation appears to be gaining control of the world's production of oil, we become alarmed and quickly point out the danger to our future prosperity. But when we are losing in the race for gold, we act defeat as a matter of course.

"Let us get into our heads that gold is important—as important as iron, oil or coal or wheat, so long as civilization continues on a gold standard for money. We hear a lot about foreign exchange; the gold supplies of nations seriously affect their rates of exchange and determine their purchasing power. The credit of a government is important; the gold reserve of any country fixes its credit. The value of the dollar bill in a man's pocket is a matter of much consequence to him; the amount of gold coin and bullion in a nation's treasury determines the worth of the bill. It is true, therefore, that gold is about as important as what we eat or wear, although its usefulness is not so apparent.

"During the last few years practically everything has risen in price except gold, and as a result gold mining generally has ceased to be profitable and production has been curtailed. For a decade, the world's paper currency has increased at a far more rapid rate than has the total supply of gold. Economists recognize that it will be difficult, if not impossible, for the business of the world to continue its normal expansion if at the same time there is a substantial decrease in the rate of gold production. Each year large quantities of gold are removed from the monetary reserves and are used in industry. Additional gold is lost through abrasion in handling and through being hidden and forgotten or accidentally lost."

"During 1919, the total gold sold and the coin destroyed for use in manufactures and the arts in the United States had a value of $80,337,900. This means that America is not only producing no gold at present for monetary purposes, but is actually consuming more than twenty million dollars' worth of gold in excess of the country's total annual production."

"In order thoroughly to understand the situation it is necessary that a few fundamental facts be borne in mind. In the United States there is a statute which specifies that the standard dollar of the country shall contain 23.22 grains of fine gold. Now there are 100 grains in an ounce of gold so that if we divide this latter number by the grains of gold in a dollar the quotient obtained is 20.67 dollars, the price of one ounce of gold. This is practically the only law that fixes the price of gold, but it is as definite and rigid in its action as if the government had laid down a permanent and unchanging price. Because of the high prices for commodities the gold ounce, the only source of income to the gold producer, had an average purchasing power during the last five years of $123.35.

"As a result, the United States gold production dropped from $101,025,000 in 1919 to $49,500,000 in 1920. In 1915, the United States produced about 12 per cent of the total, while the British output was in excess of 73 per cent of the world's entire production.

"Most of the British gold is produced in South Africa, and in July, 1919, the British Government inaugurated a plan of paying an exchange premium as high as 50 per cent, to the gold producers of that region. As a partial result of this action, goldmining in the Transvaal was stimulated materially. In 1914 British production was only three times that of the United States, while today it is six times as great.—McLeans Magazine.

The Homesteaders —by— ROBERT J. C. STEAD Published by Special Arrangement With the Author.

You don't say? Well, see and make him go through with the expenses. If it was travelling for Jack Harris I wouldn't be sleeping in a barn at night. His word stands no man's name, but he?

"Oh, some, I guess, but perhaps not so much more his neighbours. Nothing personal, Riles. You've got to get along somehow. You're going to get into the bigger game. I've been telling you about I don't care how much you're worth, how much is Harris bringing in when he started in?

"Couple of hundred dollars, likely. I wouldn't show my hand for that. How much can he raise?"

"Well, suppose he's sold the old farm."

"Now don't do any reckless spending. Will he sell the farm?"

"Suppose he will if he sees something better."

"How much can he get for it?"

"Thirty or forty thousand dollars."

That's more like a state. "I think he'll sell the farm and show it to something better—and show it to him when he's alone." "You're tired tonight. Sleep it out, and we'll have another go at it tomorrow together. We ought to pick something better than a homestead on this."

CHAPTER XIII. Setting the Trap

Now following the explanation received from his neighbour, Riles was early alone. The quiet had been strange to him, and the noises that

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Althea Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, with little good results. I am glad to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25¢ a box all dealers, or Edmaston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

floated up from the bar-room interrupted his slumbers. At least, he told himself it was the noise, but it was a great new thought that been down there, and had the world whirling in dizzy speculation. The unexpected meeting with Gardner, the latter's evident prosperity, and the fact that he had come to town with his living by labour, had left a deep impression upon Riles. He had no idea by what means Gardner proposes to support himself, but he felt some doubt about any such attempt being rewarded with success. Never before had he seen a man who, though a simple one enough, and Gardner's good clothes and good cigar were evidence of his ability to carry his place well.

The streets had not yet assumed their morning activity when Riles emerged from the hotel, but the unclouded Alberta sunshine was beginning to warm the air. In the warmth and brilliancy that filled him found, and in very truth did find, a keen response in the inanimate objects around him. The soft, silvery touch of running mountain water rippled through the quiet air, fragrant with the perfume of balm-of-gilead, and a balsam to the nostrils. The sun, a golden orb, cast its rays across broad valleys and undulations, sweeping plain and the great deep mountains, clad in their eternal robes, and who, too, seemed to have a sense of the grandeur of the scene in which he dwelt.

Riles stopped to look at them, and they stirred in him an emotion that was not altogether profound—a faint uneasiness, a sense of the greatness of man and the might of his Creator. No one can live for long in the presence of such magnificence without a sense of awe and reverence, but when he learns to distinguish between the baseness of man, the丑陋 of man, and the infinity of man, the soul abhors him.

Riles breakfasted as soon as the dining room was opened, eating his meal hurriedly, as he always did, until he was satisfied that his meal, which he was unaccustomed, could be passed on his knife only with considerable effort. Then he sat down in front of the window and said to the hotel to wait for Gardner. He had suddenly lost his interest in the few lands which had been the purview of his journeys.

He had been too long since he last expected, and he broke it several times by strolls about the little town in size it was much the same as Plamondon, though more populous, and a great day for the mountaineer who learns to distinguish between the baseness of man, the丑陋 of man, and the infinity of man, the soul abhors him.

He was about to leave when he heard a knock at the door. "Who's there?" he called. "It will be clean and above board, and no violence if it can be helped, but if it is Harris' money, I'll be pleased to receive it." "It's Gardner," he said. "I've got to speak with you."

Success Or Failure

Things Worth While Require Time and Hard Work

It is usually considered a failure who attempts something and does not succeed.

But on considering the subject, does it not seem fair to include among the ranks of the failures those who obtain the privileges of success without performing the duties of which they should be the reward?

Too many, in these get-rich-quick days, demand immediate success, easy success. The past teaches us that what is to easily obtained is prized but little if at all, and also that the things worth while are not won in a minute nor by feeble effort.

Do you desire the privileges of success? Perform faithfully its duties.

Do you desire the pleasures of achievement? You must suffer its pains.

Would you gather the fruits of success? You must perform the labor of planting and tending.—By Jack Mills.

LINIMENTS WON'T RELIEVE PAIN BETWEEN THE EYES

That pain is not rheumatism or neuralgia. Many folks think so—it is Caatarh, plain ordinary Caatarh and needs attention right now.

Caatarh is the name of a disorder, not a disease, although it may be chronic cases of weak throat, bronchitis and catarrh. Every breath through the inhaler is laden with sooty, acrid mucus. It is seen in many diseased conditions in the breathing organs.

It can't fail to help, because it goes after the trouble really exists in the head or throat by means of medicine taken into the stomach.

There is no relief from a grippsy infection than from the "Cure" found in Caatarhine, which is dispensed by Physicians, ministers, laymen and public men throughout many mission lands. Large size has two million dollar costs. 100¢, 25¢, 12¢, 5¢, sample size 25¢, all storekeepers or the Catarhine Co., Montreal.

T. A. Stewart died at St. Luke's Hospital, Yorkton, June 6. He was one of the engineers on the construction of the Canadian Pacific main line through the west; a veteran of the Red rebellion and the South African war. He had lived in British Columbia for 30 years.

A contract for a floating drydock at Vancouver has been awarded to the Burnside Drydock Company of that city, according to the Ottawa Citizen. The company is to receive an annual subsidy of 4 per cent. on $2,500,000 for a period of 35 years, or approximately $112,000 per year, the paper stated.

Illustrated in their attempt to rob the Orpheum Theatre, Minneapolis, four robbers returned to within a block of that place and robbed the Panoptics Theatre at $3,400. Patrolman John Moen, who frightened the bandits away from the Orpheum was shot and seriously wounded by them as they fled.

Direct Wireless From Australia to England

Premier Hughes Has Announced Details of Proposed Scheme

Premier Wm. Hughes has submitted to the Australian House of Representatives the details of the proposed direct wireless scheme between Australia and the United Kingdom, according to a cable from Reuter's Melbourne correspondent. The Commonwealth and the Amalgamated Wireless Company will jointly be responsible for financing the scheme, the premier stated, and the Commonwealth will secure the controlling interest.

The Commonwealth and Amalgamated Company will further construct high-power station to carry direct commercial service between Australia, the United Kingdom and Canada, according to the agreement.

The main trunk stations are to be erected within two years.

The rates generally will be two-thirds of the existing cable charges. Premier Hughes, in submitting the scheme to the house, added that it was an alternative to the link scheme submitted at the Imperial Conference. The cable message adds that there is little doubt that the proposed scheme will be accepted by the Australian Government.

New Use For Warships

One Serves As Fish-Drying Factory at Port Etienne

M. Albert Sarraut, French Minister for the Colonies, who is now at the Washington Conference, may be able, if consulted, to give useful hints as to what to do with the old battleships.

Just before he set off for Africa to make a tour of inspection, the French West African colonies and the Port Etienne he visited former French colony Chasséron Longobat, which now surely serves as a fishing port.

Riding at anchor in the bay, it serves as a fish-drying factory.

On its decks sixty tons of fish can be dried at one time.

Port Etienne is the centre of a steadily growing dried fish industry and to the Chasséron Longobat all fishing boats bring the cargoes to be cured and dried.
